

Philosophy 3330
Fall 2018
Study Guide for Exam 2

The second exam takes place during the time of our scheduled final exam in our regular room.

If you are in the 10:00 class, the exam is Tuesday, Dec 10th from 7:30am-10:00am.
If you are in the 11:00 class, the exam is Friday, Dec 6th 1:30pm-4:00pm.

The exam will cover all of the material that we have discussed in class and in the assigned readings since the first exam.

You should know the main theses and main arguments for those theses of each of the articles and chapters we have read so far.

You should also know what each of the following terms means and how they are relevant to the class. This is not an exhaustive list.

Social Darwinism

Eugenics

Ethical enhancement (according to Savulescu)

The naturalistic fallacy

Hume's Thesis/Hume's Law (and the fact/value distinction or the is/ought gap)

What is altruism – economic vs. psychological vs. biological

The prisoner's dilemma

Tit-for-Tat (on previous list – will not be on the final!)

Group selection

Kin selection

Reciprocal altruism

Moral nihilism (according to Rosenberg) – the good news and the bad news

Moral subjectivism (according to Sober)

Moral realism (according to Sober)

Kitcher:

The ethical project

Public Knowledge

Well-ordered science

Ideal conversation